The circulatory system

☞ 1 These passages are about a body system that is common to many animals: a circulatory system. Fill in each blank with the correct word from the word bank.

	Word bank
The design of an individual body system is different for _____ types of animals, but the function of some are the _____.	same different
Most animals – including _____ – have a circulatory system. A circulatory system transports nutrients, _____ and other gases, and waste products around a _____.	body humans oxygen
Simple animals, such as sea sponges, have _____ circulatory systems. Larger and more _____ animals have _____ and more complex circulatory systems.	larger complex simple
For vertebrates (animals with a backbone), such as humans, fish, birds and reptiles, the major _____ in the circulatory system is the heart. The heart pumps _____ around the body. The blood carries oxygen to all the _____ in the body, and it carries carbon dioxide away from the cells.	blood organ cells

2 In your own words, explain the statement Body systems are interdependent.

_____

_____

_____

© Ally Chumley and Blake Education 2014
ISBN 978 1 92571 063 2