13

The senses – definitions

Choose the correct words from the list to fit the definitions/descriptions.

ADRENALINE	AUTONOMIC	BINOCULAR	BRAIN	COCHLEA	CORNEA	CORTEX
EAR	EFFECTOR	ELECTRICAL	ELECTROMAGNETIC SPECTRUM		ENDOCRINE SYSTEM
FOCUS	HORMONE	INVOLUNTARY	LENS	NEURONE	OPTIC	ORGANISM	OSSICLES
PITUITARY	PUPIL	RECEPTOR	RETINA	SKIN	STIMULUS	TASTE BUDS

1 A living thing. _____

2 A change in outside conditions that makes an organism react. _____

3 Outer part of the brain that makes decisions and thinks. _____

4 The system of glands in the body that releases hormones. _____

5 Chemical produced by glands and carried through the blood. _____

6 A reflex or automatic action where choice is not involved. _____

7 Another name for a nerve cell. _____

8 Small bones in the middle ear. _____

9 A part of a living thing that receives signals. _____

10 The organ in the body that is concerned with sound. _____

11 Receptors associated with the tongue. _____

12 This has receptors that can detect heat, cold, pressure and touch. _____

13 Part of the eye that contains rods and cones. _____

14 The process by which the lens in an eye sees something clearly. _____

15 Along with the spinal cord, this makes up the central nervous system. _____

16 A fluid-filled tube in the inner ear. _____

17 The hormone that produces fright, flight and fight responses. _____

18 The gland that releases a growth hormone. _____

19 The type of impulses sent by nerve cells. _____

20 Part of the nervous system controlling heart beat, breathing and body temperature. _____

21 Hole in the iris that controls amount of light entering the eye. _____

22 To do with sight. _____

23 Vision with two eyes that gives an appreciation of distance. _____

24 An organ (eg muscle or gland) that physically responds to a signal. _____

25 The transparent front of the eyeball that covers the iris and pupil. _____

26 Part of the eye that brings light rays to a focus on the retina. _____

27 Visible light is part of this. _____

© Peter Gribben, Wendy St Germain and Learning Essentials 2003.

© Blake Education ISBN 978 1 92561 064 2 Assignments in Biology Book 2