Rock Cycle Inferences

Observation	Inference – Process or substance formed
Magma rises to the surface and cools.	Eg. It will form igneous rock
Rocks get exposed to heat and pressure.
Magma cools slowly underground.
Rocks are weathered over many years.
A rock has very large crystals.
A rock contains fossils in good condition.
Metamorphic rock exposed to more heat.
Sediments get compacted and cemented.

