The Chemical Kid

The Chemical Kid mounted his trusty horse, Old (Au) _____. He strapped his shooting (Fe) _____ to his side and headed out from the bright (Ne) _____ lights. He was determined to rob the stagecoach of its precious (U) _____ load. He inhaled a deep breath of (O) _____ and coughed on the (S) _____ from the nearby factories. It was really hot and the (Hg) _____ was rising. He took a drink of (H_2O) _____ and spat as he tasted the (Cl) _____. He rode north, his bones aching from the (Ca) _____ deposits built up from years of riding the old (Zn) _____ trail. Overhead he saw a (He) _____ balloon in the sky and knew that the stage coach was approaching. It was guarded by an old sheriff with a (Sn) _____ badge. "Stop," the kid yelled, "or I'll fill you full of (Pb) _____." The sheriff went for his gun but was too slow. The kid's gun blazed like flaming (Mg) _____ and the (Cu) _____ fell to the ground. Anyone who drew on the kid should have known his life wasn't worth a (Ni) _____. A pretty (Pt) _____ blond on the stagecoach screamed as the kid pulled out some (N) _____ compounds to blow the strongbox. Suddenly a shout rang out. "Hi, Ho, (Ag) _____." A masked man on a white horse raced across the (Si) _____ sands. The kid was captured and put behind cold (Fe) _____ bars.

Challenge

Use the word CHEMISTRY to make as many chemical symbols as you can.