Lab Safety

You will usually find a set of lab rules in a science lab. They are there for your safety! The drawing below shows a lab where there are no safety rules.

1. Write down a list of all the things going wrong in this lab (circle these in the picture)
2. For each of your answers, write a safety rule
3. Design a poster for your lab class using the assessment sheet on the next page. This will be your first assessment task for Science.
