Year 8 Science

Change of State

Water is a good example of matter.
It can be solid, and is called ice.
It can be liquid, and is called water.
It can be gas, and is called steam.

How can we change water from one state to another? By heating or cooling.

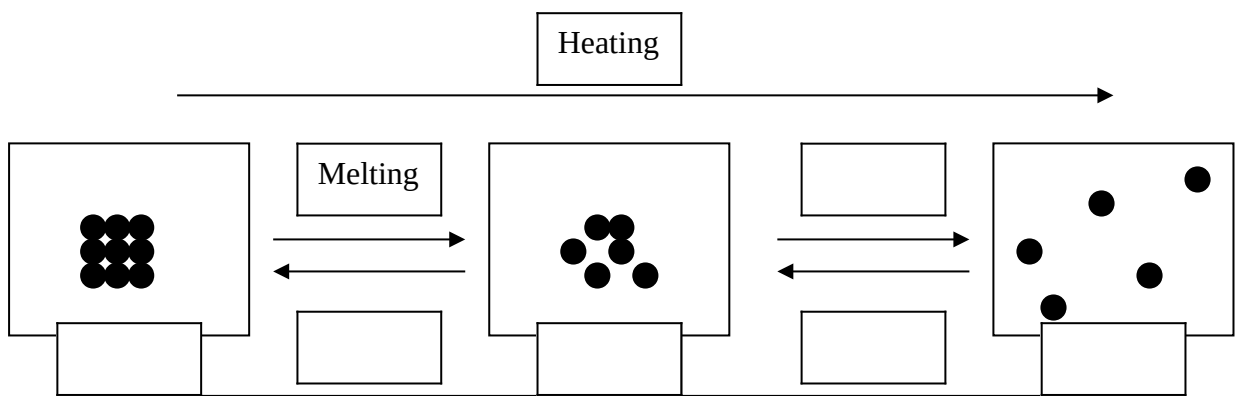
The change of state from ice to water is called melting.

The change of state from water to steam is called evaporation.

The change of state from steam to water is called condensation.

The change of state from water to ice is called solidification, or freezing.

Complete the sentences:

1. A change of state from liquid to gas is called _____.
2. A liquid can be cooled to form a _____.
3. When a gas is cooled, it first forms a _____. With more cooling, the substance can change into a _____.
4. To cause a change of state, a substance must be _____ or _____.
5. A solid may be changed into a liquid by _____.


Fill in the spaces in the diagram below: