Combustion

Respiration

Photosynthesis

Corrosion

Process that plants use to produce their own food – turns carbon dioxide and water into oxygen and glucose

When metals react with oxygen and break down

When things burn in oxygen to produce heat

Process which turns glucose and oxygen into water and carbon dioxide, releasing energy